

Key highlights from the last two weeks:

EMIR/SFRT. On 15 April, ESMA issued a report highlighting the need to improve the quality of EMIR data reported for regulatory and supervisory purposes. The report constitutes the first review of data quality since the introduction of the EMIR and SFTR reporting regimes. With regard to EMIR data, ESMA notes that NCAs and ESMA have worked closely to improve data quality. However, a significant number of derivatives are still being reported late and do not adhere to EMIR format and content rules. Moreover, information on derivatives is often not reconciled or does not receive necessary updates, particularly to daily valuation. In relation to SFTR data quality, ESMA has been unable to assess data quality adequately since the SFTR reporting regime was only recently applied.

UK Prudential regime for MiFID investment firms. On 19 April, the FCA opened a public consultation (CP21/7) on the UK Investment Firm Prudential Regime (IFPR). The consultation will remain open until 28 May 2021. It is the second consultation that the FCA is conducting on proposed prudential standards for UK investment firms. The FCA's overarching aim is to streamline and simplify the prudential requirements applicable to MiFID investment firms. However, the IFPR will also take greater account of the risks of potential harm that investment firms can pose to consumers and markets. The FCA clarifies that this simplified IFPR will apply to specialist commodity derivatives investment firms that benefit from the current exemption on capital requirements and large exposures, including: (i) oil market participants (OMPS), and (ii) energy market participants (EMPS).

EU Taxonomy. On 21 April, the European Commission published the finalized Climate Delegated Act (DA) under the EU Taxonomy. The Climate DA sets out the economic activities that qualify as environmentally sustainable by contributing substantially to climate change mitigation and climate change adaptation. Unusually, the DA was politically approved but not formally adopted by the Commission. The DA will be adopted formally at the end of May once translations are available in all official EU languages. In the interim, the Commission has indicated the text of the DA will not be subject to further changes. Following controversy, natural gas and nuclear energy have been excluded from the DA, at least for the present. The Commission has committed to developing a 'complementary Delegated Act' recognizing the role of natural gas in the decarbonization process. Nuclear energy may also be eligible for future inclusion in the Climate DA depending on the outcome of ongoing independent studies into its environmental impact.

CSRD. On 21 April, the European Commission adopted a proposal for a Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD). The proposal revises the Non-Financial Reporting Directive by dramatically increasing the scope of sustainability reporting requirements – both in terms of the number of companies that they apply to and their granularity. EU companies that exceed a certain size - in terms of number of employees, turnover or balance sheet will be brought into scope. Non-EU companies with transferable securities listed on EU regulated markets will also be subject to the sustainability reporting standards stipulated in the CSRD.

On 8 April, ESMA published a review report providing recommendations on possible reforms to simplify the requirements governing Organised Trading Facilities (OTFs). The	ESMA consultation on MiFIR transaction reporting: Q1 2021 – Estimated submission of ESMA final report to EC report suggests that the trading venue perimeter be more clearly defined. ESMA also recommends that the Commission introduce a specific definition of bulletin boards in MiFID II in the interest of enhancing the prohibition on Matched Principal Trading (MPT) between trading venues.

On 24 March, the FCA updated its statement on the application of the UK DTO. The FCA does not observe any market or regulatory developments that would warrant a change in their approach to applying the UK DTO according to the Temporary Transitional Power (TTP). As a reminder, on 31 December 2021, the FCA issued a statement clarifying the post-Brexit application of the UK DTO – whereby, firms subject to the UK DTO would be able to continue transacting on EU venues with or on behalf of EU clients provided; (i) the firm took reasonable steps to be satisfied the client does not have arrangements in place to execute the trade on a trading venue to which both the UK and EU have granted equivalence; and, the EU venue has the necessary regulatory status to do business in the UK.

On 19 March, ESMA issued a public statement on the supervisory approach to position limits in view of the recent legislative revisions introduced during the MiFID II ‘quick fix’. While the changes to the position limits regime only apply as of early 2022, in the interim ESMA has instructed NCAs not to prioritise supervisory action towards entities holding positions in commodity derivatives with a net open interest below 300,000 lots – except in the case of agricultural commodity derivatives. Similarly, ESMA expects NCAs not to prioritise supervisory actions towards positions that arise in the context of liquidity provision.

EMIR

CMCE priorities: reporting, risk mitigation for uncleared trades, calculation of NFC’s positions

Latest developments & CMCE action

On 15 April, ESMA issued a report highlighting the need to improve the quality of EMIR data reported for regulatory and supervisory purposes. The report constitutes the first review of data quality since the introduction of the EMIR and SFTR reporting regimes. With regard to EMIR data, ESMA notes that NCAs and ESMA have worked closely to improve data quality. However, a significant number of derivatives are still being reported late and do not adhere to EMIR format and content rules. Moreover, information on derivatives is often not reconciled or does not receive necessary updates, particularly to daily valuation. In relation to SFTR data quality, ESMA has been unable to assess data quality adequately since the SFTR reporting regime was only recently applied.

Next steps

1 September 2021 – Initial Margin requirements to apply to counterparties with an AANA of uncleared derivatives above EUR 50 billion.

1 September 2022 – Final implementation phase covering entities with an AANA of uncleared derivatives greater than EUR 8 billion.

On 31 March, ESMA published updated Q&As on EMIR. The Q&As clarify the treatment of transactions that are no longer eligible for the reporting exemption for intragroup transactions. ESMA specifies that in cases where conditions have changed and an outstanding transaction no longer qualifies for the intragroup reporting exemption the counterparties concerned should report the outstanding derivatives and provide all relevant details of those derivatives as they stand on the date when the exemption ceases to be valid. They should then subsequently report all lifecycle events.

Unusually, the European Commission also provided clarifications in the ESMA Q&As in relation to the proper application of Article 9(1) of EMIR. The Commission states explicitly that the intragroup reporting exemption does not apply to intragroup transactions where the parent undertaking is established in a third-country even if the transaction occurs between two counterparties which are both established in the EU.

The Commission provides the basis for this interpretation of EMIR provisions. According to the Commission;

1. The definition of parent undertaking refers to an undertaking governed by the law of a Member State and nothing in EMIR indicates a will to modify that reference.
2. This interpretation fits the actual purpose of Article 13 of EMIR: deference is granted where there is equivalence with the jurisdiction hosting the parent undertaking.
3. This interpretation ensures a meaningful use and purpose of the transparency objective of Article 9 while limiting the exemption in Article 9(1) to the minimum necessary.

On 19 March, the Joint ESAs published Q&As on bilateral margining requirements under EMIR. The Q&As address questions related to the partial intragroup exemption from bilateral margin requirements; the procedure to grant intragroup exemptions from bilateral margin requirements between a financial counterparty and a non-financial counterparty based in a different EU Member State, and the exemption from the regime from bilateral margin requirements for derivatives entered into in relation to covered bonds.

On 10 March the European Commission published a draft Delegated Act (DA) specifying the conditions under which the commercial terms for clearing services for OTC derivatives are to be considered to be fair, reasonable, non-discriminatory and transparent (FRANDT). The draft DA is subject to a public feedback period until 7 April 2021. The annex to the draft DA outlines the obligations of entities providing clearing services with regard to the transparency of the commercial terms that they offer, the on-boarding process for new clearing clients, fees & costs, risk assessments, contractual terms and the structure of their contracts, notice periods and IT requirements. The obligation to provide clearing services on a FRANDT basis will apply as of 18 June 2021.

Benchmarks

CMCE priorities: commodity benchmarks, critical benchmarks, third-country equivalence

Latest developments & CMCE action

On 24 March, ESMA published an updated public statement on the post-Brexit application of the BMR. ESMA has updated the public statement to reflect the recent extension of the transitional period for the use of third-country benchmarks introduced during the BMR 'quick fix'. ESMA reiterates that despite UK benchmark administrators now qualifying as third-country administrators, the change in their status on the ESMA register will not effect the ability of EU27 supervised entities to use the benchmarks provided by UK benchmark administrators due to the BMR 'quick fix' reform. ESMA adds that UK recognized and endorsed third-country benchmarks – which refers to non-UK and non-EU benchmarks recognized or endorsed in the UK - can still be used by EU27 third-country entities during the BMR transitional period (which runs until 31 December 2023).

On 24 March, ESMA opened a consultation in relation to draft technical advice to the European Commission on the simplification and harmonization of fees for trade repositories (TRs) under EMIR and SFTR. The consultation will remain open until 24 April 2021. In the consultation, ESMA makes proposals in relation to the general approach to fees determination; the calculation of turnover and of annual supervisory fees; the calculation of fees for registration, for the extension of registration and in the case of concurrent applications; the calculation of fees for recognition and on-going supervision of third-country TRs; and the payment and reimbursement modalities. ESMA, the Internal Audit Service (IAS) of the European Commission and the European Court of Auditors have identified several areas where the regulatory framework governing the collection of fees could be simplified so as allow for more efficient use of ESMA's resources.		24 April 2021 – Deadline to submit response on ESMA consultation on simplification and harmonisation of fees for TRs.
